An Efficient Remedy

In all cases of Bronchial and Pulmonary Affections is AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. As such it is recognized and prescribed by the medical profession, and in many thousands of families, for the in many thousands of families, for the past forty years, it has been regarded as an invaluable household remedy. It is a preparation that only requires to be taken in very small quantities, and a few doses of it administered in the early stages of a cold or cough will effect a speedy cure, and may, very possibly, save life. There is no doubt whatever that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral Has preserved the lives of great numbers of persons, by arresting the development of Laryngitis, Bronehitis, Fracumonia, and Pulmonary Consumption, and by the cure of those dangerous maindles, it should be kept ready for use in every family where there are children, as it is a medicine far superior to all others in the treatment of Croup, the alleviation of Whooping Cough, and the cure of Colds and Influenza, althents peculiarly incl-Whooping Cough, and the cure of Colda and Influenza, aliments peculiarly incidental to childhood and youth. Promptitude in dealing with all diseases of this class is of the utmost importance. The loss of a single day may, in many cases, entail fatal consequences. Do not waste precious time in experimenting with medicines of doubtful efficacy, while the malady is constantly gaining a deeper hold, but take at once the speedlest and most certain to cure.

Fair Fishers Who Cried "Shoe!"

Fair Fishers Who Cried "Shoe!"

Overland Monthly.

As I neared the stream to secure the material for our first lunch, the pleasant sound of a woman's voice followed by rippling langhter, rather astonished me, and going a few steps farther somewhat more cautiously, I came upon a very refreshing scene. Two young ladies who had probably heard of the Indians' mode of fishing by constructing a wicker-work dam and bly heard of the Indians' mode of flahing by constructing a wicker-work dam and driving the flah into the trap, had ingentiously simplified the plan, and were just commencing operation. They had divested themselves of their footgear, and were standing in the stream about twenty feet apart, in water some ten inches deep. As soon as the more muscular one succeeded in getting a large, flaring tin pan into a position under the water she called to her companion. "Now start them!" and, bracing herself, prepared to scoop up a fine mess of flah, while her friend advanced toward her, beating the water with some ward her, beating the water with some brush and "shooing" continually. I passed on, as I came, unobserved, and thoroughly amused at this harmless mode of fishing.

Why Mr. Tod Scorned the Double d.

Beston Tructier.

One of Lincoln's most esteemed friends was old ex-Governor Tod, of Ohio. He was a quaint old character, and Lincoln loved him for his honesty, ability and native ahrewdases. One evening when Tod was in town Lincoln lovited him over to the White House. They had a long chat together, when Lincoln finally said: "Look here, Tod, how is it that you spell your name with only said: "Look here, Tod, how is it that you spell your name with only one d? I married a Todd, but she spelled her name with two ds. All of her relatives do the same. You are the first Tod I ever met who spelled his name with so few letters." Old Tod looked at Lincoln for a moment in his peculiarly quizzing manner, and then replied: "Mr. President, God spells his name with only one d, and what is good enough for God is good enough for ms." Lincoln used to repeat this story to some of his more intiin good enough for me. Enterin used to repeat this story to some of his more inti-mate friends, and every time he did so he would laugh until the tears ran down over that furrowed but grand face.
